

Northern Ireland LGBT Inclusion Week 2015

(formerly NI Anti-homophobia and Transphobia Week )

'Come and walk in my shoes'

Thursday 14th May 18.00-20.00

Across Northern Ireland thousands of young LGBT&T young people challenge prejudice by simply walking out their front door, and by doing so they challenge society to promote their inclusion. As part of LGBT Awareness Week some of these young people, are inviting you to walk in their shoes just for one night. This walkthrough event hosted at the interactive RADAR Centre will challenge you to place yourself outside of the gender binary, or outside heteronormative structures and see the world through different eyes.

RADAR Centre

Units 8-12 Harbour Court

Sydenham Business Park

Belfast

BT3 9HB

The target audience includes teachers and the event will incorporate both classroom and changing room scenarios.

Spaces are limited—please RSVP to Alison Foster—Alison.foster@hscni.net
02895 363 347 by 6th May 2015